Brand Voice & Style Guide

Version 2.0 | February 2026

Frisco & Lewisville, TX

1. Brand Positioning

Category

Authentic Japanese Steakhouse & Sushi Bar – family-friendly dining blending hibachi entertainment and sushi bar craftsmanship. Serving the North Dallas / DFW community since 1988.

Primary Audience

North Dallas/DFW locals seeking memorable celebrations and group gatherings – from birthday families to date-night couples – who want great food and a fun, welcoming atmosphere.

Differentiator

Jinbeh is “the Gracious Host” of Japanese dining – delivering warm hospitality (guests feel like regulars), spirited hibachi shows (chefs who entertain kids and adults alike), and quality sushi & steaks rooted in Japanese tradition. Unlike sterile chains, Jinbeh offers an authentically fun vibe.

Brand Promise

“A warm welcome and a show with every meal” – delicious Japanese cuisine plus an unforgettable experience, treating every guest like family and every visit like a celebration.

What Sets Jinbeh Apart

- Family-owned since 1988 – 37+ years of authentic Japanese dining in North Texas
- Fresh seafood & sushi – quality fish, handcrafted rolls, and creative specialty rolls made to order
- Homemade sauces – including the beloved yum yum sauce that keeps guests coming back
- Original signature rolls – unique creations you won't find at chain restaurants
- Hibachi dinner & show – entertaining chefs who make every meal a celebration
- Two convenient locations – Frisco and Lewisville, TX

2. Voice Archetype: The Gracious Host

Speak as the welcoming friend who invites you in, makes you comfortable, and shows you a great time. The tone is warm, generous, and a bit playful, ensuring guests of all ages feel at home.

Voice Pillars

1. Warm & Family-Oriented (Primary)

Genuine warmth, care, inclusivity. Greet guests like old friends. Emphasize family and togetherness (“bring the whole family,” “making memories together”).

2. Spirited & Entertaining

Celebrate the fun of hibachi. Energetic with humor and excitement (without being childish). Highlight the “dinner and a show” aspect.

3. Authentic & Respectful

Honor Japanese culinary tradition. Sincere when discussing quality and heritage. Use Japanese terms correctly but explain for inclusivity.

Tone Sliders

Dimension	Position	Notes
Warm ↔ Formal	★★★★★ Warm	Always personable, conversational. Never stiff.
Playful ↔ Serious	★★★★☆ Playful	Fun on social/hibachi. Calm sincerity for issues.
Traditional ↔ Trendy	★★★★☆ Traditional	Respect tradition with fresh feel.

Signature Phrases

- “Welcome to the table!” / “Welcome back!” – hospitable greeting
- “It’s a celebration!” – for birthdays / special events
- “Dinner and a show” – describes hibachi experience
- “Fresh and flavorful” – emphasizes food quality
- “Thank you for dining with us” – sincere close

Banned Phrases & Tones

- ✗ No cold/upscale snobbery (“for VIPs only”)
- ✗ No gimmicky slang or memes (“That hibachi drip”)

- ✗ Never dismiss concerns defensively
- ✗ No ALL-CAPS or excessive “!!!”
- ✗ No fake authenticity or stereotype humor

3. Style & Formatting Rules

Emojis

Sparingly on social media (1–2 max, end of sentence). None in formal copy or serious feedback. Allowed: fire emoji for hibachi, sushi emoji for specials. Google Posts: one emoji for attention is acceptable.

Exclamation Points

Max one per sentence. Let words convey excitement, not punctuation.

Hashtags

Instagram: 2–3 relevant hashtags (#HibachiFun, #DFWSushi, #FriscoTX). No long strings. No hashtags on Google Posts.

Humor

Family-friendly, gentle puns okay. Never mock customers. Acceptable: “Our chefs are on fire (literally!)”. Avoid: risqué, sarcastic, mean-spirited, or “cringe” memes.

Reading Level & Accessibility

Target 6th–8th grade reading level. Short sentences (10–20 words). Use “friends” or “folks” instead of gendered terms. Explain Japanese terms in context: “Try okonomiyaki (savory Japanese pancake) made the traditional way.”

Voice Examples

Context	Do This	Not This
Welcoming	✓ We're excited to welcome you	✗ Patrons are advised...
Playful	✓ Get ready for flames and laughter!	✗ OMG THIS IS SO LIT
Authentic	✓ Our expert chefs craft authentic flavors	✗ BEST JAPANESE FOOD EVER!!!!
Addressing Issues	✓ Thank you for your feedback. We're sorry about...	✗ That's just how it is

4. Visual Style Guidelines

Color Palette

The palette balances warmth, authenticity, and premium quality. Overall look: “Upscale casual.”

Swatch	Color	Hex	Role	Usage
	Charcoal	#1F1F1F	Primary text	Text on light backgrounds, dark backgrounds for light text
	Warm Ivory	#F6F1E8	Backgrounds	Section backgrounds, menus, cozy undertone
	Cedar Brown	#7A4E2D	Accent	Headers, icons, menu/signage elements
	Deep Indigo	#1E2A44	Premium contrast	CTA buttons, highlight sections, navbar/footer
	Accent Red	#C1121F	Emphasis	Logo mark, Reserve button, special offers
	Soft Gold	#C9A227	Festive accent	VIP badges, anniversary, premium touches

Typography

Primary (Headings & Logo)

Serif or display font with subtle Japanese influence. Options: Noto Serif JP, Yu Mincho, Garamond, Cambria. Conveys authenticity and refinement.

Secondary (Body Text)

Clean sans-serif for legibility. Options: Helvetica Neue, Tahoma, Verdana, Source Sans Pro, Open Sans.

Accent (Optional)

Brush script or hand-drawn kanji-style for branded materials only. Use sparingly and ensure legibility.

Photography Style

IMPORTANT: Vibrant & Enticing

Product and food photos should be vibrant, colorful, and appetizing – NOT dark or moody. The goal is to make viewers hungry and excited. Bright, well-lit shots that showcase the natural colors of fresh fish, vegetables, and sizzling meats. Photos should draw people in and make them want to visit.

Lighting & Colors

- Warm, inviting tone – bright and appetizing, never harsh blue/cool lighting
- Golden glow of the grill, vibrant food colors front and center
- Hibachi flame reflecting on faces = ideal energy shot
- Food shots should pop with color: vibrant sushi reds/oranges, fresh greens, rich sauces

Subject Guidelines

- Real guests and genuine moments (actual diners/staff, with permission)
- Smiles, laughter, reactions to chef tricks
- Candid > perfectly posed; Authenticity > perfection

Food Photography

- Hero shots of signature dishes – bright, vibrant, and close-up
- Highlight freshness and craftsmanship with vivid color
- Show abundance and sociability, not single plates on white
- True color – avoid over-editing but ensure photos are well-lit and saturated

Photography to Avoid

- ✗ Dark, moody, or dimly-lit food shots
- ✗ Stocky “luxury” minimalism (empty rooms, sterile plates)
- ✗ Neon club vibe (heavy artificial colors)
- ✗ Cluttered or low-quality/blurry images

Graphic Motifs

- Japanese Patterns (Subtle): Seigaiha (blue wave) or asanoha – very light, background use only
- Brushstroke Accents: Under section titles in cedar brown or accent red
- Iconography: Simple line icons with slight brush quality, charcoal or brown

5. Signature Menu Highlights

When promoting Jinbeh, consistently feature these differentiators that guests love:

Fresh Seafood & Sushi

Jinbeh is known for fresh, high-quality sushi and seafood. Our sushi chefs handcraft every roll to order using premium ingredients. This is a key differentiator from chain restaurants.

Popular Original Rolls

Highlight these signature creations that guests can only get at Jinbeh:

- Volcano Roll – a guest favorite, erupting with flavor
- Creative Specialty Rolls – unique combinations crafted by our experienced sushi chefs
- Classic Sashimi & Nigiri – for purists who appreciate tradition and quality

Always mention that our rolls are original creations – not the same menu you'll find at every hibachi chain.

Homemade Sauces

Our sauces are made fresh in-house – a point of pride that guests consistently rave about:

- Yum Yum Sauce – our most popular sauce, beloved by guests of all ages
- Ginger Sauce – fresh and flavorful, a hibachi essential
- House-made Dressings – from ginger dressing to spicy mayo, all crafted in our kitchen

The homemade sauces are a strong differentiator. Use phrases like “made fresh daily” and “you can taste the difference.”

Hibachi Experience

The hibachi show is Jinbeh's signature entertainment. Chefs perform tableside tricks including the flaming onion volcano, shrimp toss, and interactive comedy. It's dinner AND a show – perfect for birthdays, date nights, family outings, and group celebrations.

8. Content Creation Quick Reference

Instagram Captions

- Apply voice pillars: warm, spirited, authentic
- Include real customer phrases as social proof
- 1–2 emojis max, end of sentence
- 2–3 relevant hashtags (#HibachiFun, #DFWSushi, #FriscoTX)

Google Business Posts

- 100–300 characters, informational but warm
- Include clear CTA (“Reserve Now,” “Call Now,” “Learn More”)
- One emoji max for attention
- No hashtags (not useful on Google)

Ad Copy (Hook → Meat → CTA)

- Lead with an attention-grabbing hook
- Reference real customer phrases for authenticity
- Target specific customer segment
- End with clear, compelling CTA

Review Responses

Positive Reviews

- Thank warmly, echo their experience
- Use signature phrases

Negative Reviews – The Gracious Host Approach

Thank for feedback → Apologize sincerely → Take accountability → Explain corrective action → Invite back with personal attention.

Re-Engagement Campaigns

For lapsed or inactive customers, focus on awareness and enticement:

- Lead with what makes Jinbeh special: fresh seafood and sushi, homemade sauces (especially yum yum sauce), original signature rolls, and the hibachi show experience
- Use vibrant, appetizing imagery: bright food photos that make viewers hungry – NOT dark/moody shots

- Include a compelling offer: free appetizer, free edamame, or free drink to lower the barrier to return
- Strong CTA: drive to reservation or visit with urgency (limited time, expires date)

9. Ad Hooks Library

Use the Hook → Meat → CTA format for all advertising:

1. “Dinner or Boring Dinner?”

Hook: Dinner or Boring Dinner?

Meat: Fresh sushi? ✓ Entertaining hibachi? ✓ Family-owned gem? ✓ Jinbeh checks all the boxes.

CTA: Try Jinbeh this week – make a reservation.

10. “Taste the Homemade Difference”

Hook: Taste the Homemade Difference

Meat: Our famous yum yum sauce, fresh ginger dressing, and house-made spicy mayo – all crafted daily in our kitchen. No packets, no shortcuts.

CTA: Come taste what fresh really means.

10. Review Response Templates

Negative Review: Long Wait / Service Delay

Hi [Name], thank you for your feedback and I'm very sorry about the long wait you experienced. We dropped the ball on timely service, and that's not what we aim to provide. Our team has discussed this to ensure we staff appropriately during busy times. I'd love a chance to make this right – please reach out to me at [manager contact] so I can personally assist with your next reservation.

Negative Review: Chef Not Engaging

Dear [Name], thank you for bringing this to our attention. We're sorry your hibachi chef didn't provide the lively show we're known for – entertaining chefs are a Jinbeh hallmark. We've addressed this with our chef team. We'd love to welcome you back for the true Jinbeh experience – please ask for a manager and we'll take care of you.

Negative Review: Food Quality

Hello [Name], I'm sorry to hear that some dishes missed the mark. Our chefs usually earn high praise, so we take this seriously. We've retrained our kitchen on recipe consistency because every meal should be delicious. If you're open to another try, I'd be happy to personally oversee your order.

Negative Review: Cleanliness

Hi [Name], we apologize sincerely for the cleanliness issues. We've since deep-cleaned and reinforced our checklist with staff. We hope you'll consider visiting again so you can enjoy our food in a spotless environment.

Negative Review: Value / Pricing

Hello [Name], I'm sorry you left feeling it wasn't worth the price. We aim to deliver an experience where food, service, and show make it a great value. Your feedback is being shared with management as we review the overall experience. We'd love another chance to give you the five-star visit so many have enjoyed.
